About Us:

CELEBRATING THE TIMELESS WISDOM OF AYURVEDA AT AYURVEDA KUMBH

Ayurveda Kumbh stands as the grandest and most significant global congregation dedicated to the ancient science of Ayurveda. Held biennially in one of India's sacred Saptapuris (Seven Holy Cities), it is more than just a conference and exhibition; it is a vibrant celebration of life, health, and the profound wisdom passed down through generations via the revered Guru-Shishya tradition.

Ayurveda Kumbh is a unique platform that brings together over 10,000 esteemed Vaidyas (Ayurveda scholars & practitioners) from across the globe. Here, they converge to receive invaluable knowledge and blessings directly from revered Gurus, fostering the continuation of a sacred lineage of learning.

Our commitment to preserving and promoting the authenticity of Ayurveda is evident in our remarkable achievements. Ayurveda Kumbh proudly holds three world records for Samhita recitation, a testament to the dedication and collective spirit of our participants. This prestigious recognition from the World Book of Records, London, underscores the global significance of this event.

The Third Ayurveda Kumbh, scheduled for 22nd to 24th December 2025 at the serene Prem Nagar Ashram in Haridwar, holds special reverence as it is dedicated to the divine Lord Ashwini Kumars, the celestial physicians. The central focus of this Kumbh will be the intricate and vital aspects of Rasa Chikitsa & Cancer management. Through insightful dialogues and expert presentations, we aim to illuminate the potential of these ancient practices in addressing modern health challenges.

Beyond the academic and scientific discourse, Ayurveda Kumbh is deeply rooted in spirituality. The event encompasses sacred rituals such as the Ayurveda Yajna and the Maha Aarti, creating an atmosphere of profound reverence and connection. The vibrant Ayurveda Shobha Yatra, a grand procession, beautifully showcases the rich heritage and traditions of Ayurveda, making it a truly immersive cultural experience.

At Ayurveda Kumbh, the divine grace of Lord Dhanvantari, the father of Ayurveda, the healing energies of the Ashwini Kumars, and the wisdom enshrined in the sacred Ayurvedic texts are palpably felt. It is a space where ancient wisdom meets contemporary understanding, fostering growth, collaboration, and a deeper appreciation for the holistic principles of Ayurveda.

Ayurveda Samhita Dham and Jivan Amrit Ayurveda are honored to be the driving forces behind this extraordinary event. Our mission is to provide a platform that not only disseminates knowledge and fosters research but also nurtures the spiritual and traditional essence of Ayurveda. We believe in the power of collective wisdom and the importance of upholding the Guru-Shishya parampara to ensure the purity and efficacy of this ancient healing science for generations to come.

Join us at Ayurveda Kumbh Trītyā and become a part of this historic gathering – a confluence of knowledge, spirituality, and the enduring legacy of Ayurveda.

Focal Theme:

RASACHIKITSA & CANCER

Bridging Ancient Wisdom, Today's Hope

Rasachikitsa:

- * Core Concept: Rasachikitsa, also known as Rasa Shastra, is a specialized branch of Ayurveda that utilizes rasa dravyas – which include processed metals, minerals, and sometimes herbs – for therapeutic purposes. The term "Rasa" refers to the "essence" of these substances, believed to possess potent healing properties when purified and prepared correctly.
- * Principles: It operates on the Ayurvedic principles of balancing the three doshas (Vata, Pitta, Kapha) and aims for detoxification, rejuvenation (Rasayana), and disease management. The processing methods (Shodhana – purification and Marana – incineration into Bhasma) are crucial to eliminate toxicity and enhance bioavailability.
- * Applications: Rasachikitsa is employed in managing various complex and chronic conditions, including musculoskeletal disorders, digestive issues, respiratory ailments, neurological problems, skin diseases, sexual disorders, and infectious diseases.

Sub-theme: Cancer Management:

Given that Cancer is the sub-theme, Ayurveda Kumbh 2025 will likely explore the following aspects within the framework of Rasachikitsa:

- * Ayurvedic Understanding of Cancer: Discussions will likely delve into how Ayurveda views cancer, often correlating it with Arbuda (neoplasm) and Granthi (tumor/cyst), emphasizing the imbalance of Doshas (primarily Vata, Pitta, and Kapha) and the weakening of Dhatus (tissues).
 - * Role of Rasa Aushadhis (Herbo-mineral formulations): The conference will likely highlight the use of specific Bhasmas (metallic and mineral preparations) and herbo-mineral combinations in managing cancer. Research and traditional knowledge regarding the potential anti-cancer properties of various rasa dravyas will likely be discussed. Examples might include Yashada Bhasma (zinc), Swarna Bhasma (gold), and formulations like Nityanand Rasa.
 - * Panchakarma and Rasayana in Cancer Care: The importance of detoxification (Panchakarma) to eliminate aggravated Doshas and rejuvenate therapies (Rasayana) to strengthen tissues, boost immunity, and improve the quality of life for cancer patients will likely be emphasized. Rasayana therapies may also help in mitigating the side effects of conventional cancer treatments.
 - * Herbal Support in Conjunction with Rasa Chikitsa: While the primary theme is Rasachikitsa, the role of specific anti-cancer herbs and their synergistic action with mineral-based formulations might also be explored.
 - * Research and Clinical Experiences: The Kumbh will likely feature presentations on research findings and clinical experiences regarding the application of Rasachikitsa in cancer management, potentially exploring its role in prevention, palliation, and as a supportive therapy alongside conventional treatments.
 - * Traditional Knowledge and Innovative Approaches: The dialogue will likely bridge traditional Ayurvedic wisdom with modern research perspectives on Rasachikitsa and cancer.
- In essence, Ayurveda Kumbh 2025, with its focus on Rasachikitsa and Cancer, aims to provide a platform for in-depth discussions, knowledge sharing, and exploration of the potential of this ancient therapeutic branch in addressing a significant global health challenge.

Why Rasachikita and Cancer?

The theme of Rasachikitsa with a sub-theme of Cancer for Ayurveda Kumbh 2025 is likely chosen for several significant reasons:

- * Addressing a Major Health Challenge:
- * Highlighting a Specialized Branch of Ayurveda:
- * Bridging Traditional Wisdom with Modern Needs:
- * Potential for Integrative Care:
- * Showcasing Ayurvedic Advancements:
- * In Line with Global Interest in Integrative Medicine:
- * Dedicated to Lord Ashwini Kumars:

In essence, the theme Rasachikitsa and Cancer signifies a focused effort to explore the depth and potential of a specialized Ayurvedic approach in tackling a major health crisis, fostering research, and promoting integrative healthcare strategies.
